Admissions Priorities

- Programs with admissions priorities will list them in their program details.
- All priority 1 students who are eligible will be considered before moving to the next priority group.
- Schools with current 8th graders will most likely give current students first priority group
- Diversity in Admissions is a big initiative that many schools are participating in and gives priority for a % of its seats to students who qualify for reduced or free lunch (most schools), ELL (some schools), and temporary housing (some schools)
- Zoned and borough priorities are staying, but district priorities are still eliminated. There are many programs you will be able to apply to that are outside of your immediate area. Manhattan schools that used to have district 2 priority are now open to most of NYC. Check program's geographic priorities when applying.

Screened Programs

- For MOST screened programs this year, admissions will be based on “Average Course Grades”
 - This is the average of your Math, ELA, Science and Social Studies 7th grade final grades.
- For some programs that requested an EXCEPTION, additional criteria will also be considered.
 - Depending on the program, this could be essays, interview, portfolio, etc.

Example: Fort Hamilton Honors

Admissions Method

Screened

Students are admitted based on their course grades, and/or a school-based assessment.

Selection Criteria

As a screened program the school also considers factors:

- Average Course Grades - 100%

Example: Beacon High School

Admissions Method

Screened

Students are admitted based on their course grades, and/or a school-based assessment.

Selection Criteria

As a screened program the school also considers factors:

- Average Course Grades - 20%
- Essay - 80%

Screened Programs

Screened programs will admit the top-performing applicants from across each middle school and citywide. Students will be admitted to screened programs in group order, starting with students in group one.

Students fall into a screened admissions groups based on the average of their final seventh-grade core course grades (ELA, Math, Science, Social Studies). This average must fall into the top percentage of students citywide or at a student's school in order to fall within a certain admissions group.

Screened Programs

To fall into the top ___% of applicants citywide		For within school, needs average grade of at least	For citywide, needs average grade of at least
Top 15% (Group 1)	&	90	94.33
Top 30% (Group 2)		80	90.25
Top 50% (Group 3)		75	83.5
Top 70% (Group 4)		65	76.75

- For screened programs looking just at average grades (most of them), applicants from Group 1 will be considered before moving to Group 2. If there are more applicants in Group 1 than seats, students will be randomly selected within the group. Every student will be assigned a lottery number.

Screened Programs – case studies

Student 1:

Course average: 89

School's top 15% cutoff: 88

Student will be in Group 2

Student 2:

Course average: 94.5

School's top 15% cutoff: 96

(because she/he meets citywide cutoff)

Student 3:

Course average: 92.5

School's top 15%: 91

Student will be in Group 1

Screened Programs – outside criteria

- A bunch of schools and programs asked the Department of Education for an exception and was granted one, so their screening will consist of outside criteria
- You can check each school's website to see how to fulfill those outside assessments.
 - Example: Essay prompts and submission instructions
 - Example: Interview slots
- Most are done in addition to the Average Grades Criteria
- You still have list these schools in your MySchools HS application list, in true priority order

Case Study

- Course grades grouping and the school's assessment scores will be combined using a weighted average.
- High schools choose how the two components are weighted; this is shown on each school's MySchools profile.

Student A

For example, If a school weighted course grades at 20% and an essay at 80%, and an applicant who fell into admissions group 1 had an essay score of 85:

The student's grade mapping would be 100 since they fall in group 1.

The essay score is 85.
Then the scores would be averaged using the school's weights: $(100 \times 20\%) + (85 \times 80\%) = 88$

This student's final score would be 88.
Students are admitted in descending final score order.

Student B

For example, If a school weighted course grades at 20% and an essay at 80%, and an applicant who fell into admissions group 2 had an essay score of 95:

The student's grade mapping would be 90 since they fall in group 2.

The essay score is 95.
Then the scores would be averaged using the school's weights: $(90 \times 20\%) + (95 \times 80\%) = 94$

This student's final score would be 94.
Students are admitted in descending final score order.

Diversity in Admissions

- Many high schools around the city are participating in this initiative, where a large % of their seats are reserved to give priority to students who fall into certain categories (ELL, low income – qualify for reduced or free lunch, temporary housing, etc.)
- This is a great opportunity for those who qualify. They get first priority for these seats.
- Schools that participate will indicate the Diversity in Admissions in its Priority Groups

Priority Groups

1. Open to New York City residents

 - Exceptions for those who are applying for screened or audition programs
- More schools participating in Diversity in Admissions

Instructions

It is most important that the schools to which you are applying get the clearest picture possible of your unique artistic abilities and talents. Remember, each school is looking for your potential, and that means how your present skills will grow and develop over the four years you will be spending at their school.

I. Portfolio Upload - Photographs of 4 to 8 pieces of original artwork that includes the following (for additional support with this portfolio, you may view these visual arts portfolio resources):

- Piece 1: A self-portrait, using a graphite drawing pencil and paper done from observation (from observation means you draw yourself by looking in a mirror).
- Piece 2: A still life of at least 3 items, using a graphite drawing pencil and paper done from observation (from observation means you draw objects placed before you on a surface in front of you).
- Piece 3: A figure drawing, using a graphite drawing pencil and paper. You may pose a friend or a family member in front of you. Draw the human figure from observation (from observation means you draw a live person). If you do not have access to a friend or family member, see the tutorial on figure drawing on this visual arts portfolio resources.
 - Make sure you draw the entire figure and fill the page: do not cut off parts of the head or feet.
 - Draw your figure with realistic proportions.
 - Try to use value or lines to draw the folds on the clothes.
 - Include any observed details and draw the facial features.
 - Include some background elements placing the figure in a simple setting to make sure your figure does not look like it is floating in space.
- Pieces 4-7: Add 1 to 4 additional pieces to your portfolio. You may select pieces that were created using any material in any form. They may be two-dimensional or three-dimensional.
- Piece 8: If you are applying to Art and Design High School, Fiorello H. LaGuardia High School of Music & Art and Performing Art, and/or Frank Sinatra School of the Arts, submit this creative drawing. (This piece is optional for students applying to other programs.)*

II. Student Introduction

Select three pieces of artwork from your portfolio (Piece 1 and Piece 2 must be included). Upload a short video about the three uploaded pieces of original artwork. Discuss your choice of subject and materials, motivation, and influences. Your video should be no longer than three (3) minutes. If you are unable to create a video, you may upload a written explanation of up to 500 words (either is equally acceptable).

Call Backs

Schools may invite you to "call backs" for other school specific requirements. Schools also may invite students for live on-demand tasks. Do not be concerned if you are not invited for a call back. A call back does not mean acceptance or rejection.

Tips For Developing a List

Explore Many Options & Keep an Open Mind

- Students who chose 10 to 12 programs across multiple schools on their application matched to one of their choices 97% of the time.
 - Those who chose 1 school only has a 56% chance of matching

Rank Choices in True Order Of Preference

- High schools cannot see how you rank their programs on your list.
- Do not list programs you are not interested in attending. You are wasting a spot.

Tips For Developing a List

If you have a program that has Guaranteed Admission, make sure to include it at the end of your list

Example, If you attend a continuing school or if you have a ZONED program

Include A Balance Of Program Selectivity

Choose 3 schools that are “reach”, 3 schools that are “safe”, and everything in between can be for “target”

Looking at # of applicants per seat is a good way to determine the program’s competitiveness. 25+ is very competitive.

High School Results

- All NYC students will get a high school offer
- Released in the spring, a student's high school offers letter will include up to one offer from the high school application process, as well as any Specialized High Schools results and/or offers for the testing Specialized High Schools and/or LaGuardia High School.
- In the late spring, you will receive a high school letter, which will include
 - Your high school offer
 - If you auditioned for programs at LaGuardia High School: 0-6 offers to LaGuardia programs
 - Next steps, such as how to choose between multiple offers (if you also received a Specialized High School offer or offers)
 - Information about any programs where you've been waitlisted. You'll be automatically added to the waitlist of any program that you listed higher on your application than the program where you received an offer.
- After high school offers are available, you will be able to use your MySchools account to:
 - Add yourself to additional waitlists
 - Check your place on any school's waitlist, in real time
 - Accept or decline waitlists offers

What is a Charter School

- A charter school is a public school that is run by an organization that is not controlled by the Department of Education. They are funded by the New York State but privately operated
 - Exempt from state and local regulations on school operations; can make faster decisions and changes
 - Not impacted or affiliated by the teacher's union
 - Can decide how its funds are allocated to reach its educational goals
 - Have to uphold school's charter agreement and show proof of achievement in order to keep the contract
 - Have to answer to its own board of Directors
 - Have to follow state regulations and uphold education standards
- Charter school students are often outpacing and improving faster than their traditional public school peers. More than 80% of public charter school students in New York are outpacing their traditional public school peers in year over year academic improvement in math and English Language Arts.
- Charter schools were opened in NYC in 1999 and there are now 271 Charter Schools serving approximately 15% of the city's children.

Difference btw Charter and District

	Charter Public School	District Public School
Governance	Board of Directors	Department of Education
Teacher's Union	Not affiliated	UFT controls
Funding	State funded + some private fundraising	City funded
Tuition	FREE to students	FREE to students
Flexibility	Can react quickly in making changes	Heavily bureaucratic
Services	More limited service offerings	Standard resources across DOE operated schools
Continuity	Often times, option to stay with organization from K-12	Most likely have to switch from Elementary, to Middle to High School

Are Charter Schools Good?

- Every charter group is different. You have to look at each network / school individually.
- Many charters have demonstrated significant academic achievements as compared to neighboring district schools
 - Success Academy is an example of the biggest success story of them all
 - Most schools are highly coveted and have long wait lists
- Most charters allow the option of staying with the network until end of High School, so you don't have to worry about finding a school until college!
- Some charters also have very specific focuses: dual language, special needs, single gender, etc.
- However, Charter may not provide all the services that DOE does. They have chosen to allocate their funding to what they want to be good at. So, make sure you can live without those services:
 - Transportation
 - After school programs, etc.

Where are the Charter Schools?

- You can search through the Charter Directory or on Google Maps.
 - <http://www.nysed.gov/charter-schools/charter-schools-directory>
 - School performance and rankings can be found through the following resources: Inside Schools, School Digger, Niche, etc.
- Not every charter school will accept students from all grades.
- There are not many options in South Brooklyn
- There are NO charter schools in District 20
- If parents make some noise, we can put pressure on mayor to lift charter cap – charters are looking to open here.

How do I apply?

- MOST Charter Applications are all through ONE portal:
<https://nyccharterschools.schoolmint.net>
- Lottery based
- Due 4/1 through one central portal
- Does not affect your district school applications. You can apply to both and then decide which to accept.

Usually the good charter schools have very high applicants to seats ratio, and are incredibly difficult to get in. However, due to pandemic, there has been decreasing enrollment across all schools (people moving out of the city or homeschooling), so there is a much higher opportunity of getting in one right now.

How do I apply?

It is four easy steps to apply:

- 1. Student information
- 2. Select the schools: the portal will list all the schools in order from closest to farthest that the student is eligible to apply for. HOWEVER, please NOTE that NOT all schools are on the main portal. Some schools, you have to find the school separately (either through their website or from “add school organization”)
- 3. Fill out the application
- 4. SUBMIT

Private High Schools

- New York City has some of the nation's BEST private high schools.
- Do not rule them out because of the tuition. Financial aid is usually available; tuition can be subsidized or reduced based on household income.
- Call schools to arrange for tour and open house information.
- Do research on different private schools and their rankings
 - <https://www.niche.com/k12/search/best-private-k12-schools/m/new-york-city-metro-area/>
 - <https://www.privateschoolreview.com/new-york/new-york>

Private School Tuition and Financial Aid

- Financial aid is usually need-based. The degree of need is determined by family income.
- Many families receive partial aid. Financial aid covers not only tuition, but also lunch, books, and required supplies.
- Admission is need-blind, which means applicants are judged solely on their merits, and their ability to pay for tuition is not taken into consideration.

Private School Admission Criteria

Private School have a VERY demanding application process and admission criteria. Those requirements generally include:

- Admission application package
- ISEE and SSAT test score
- Transcripts on 6th, 7th and 8th grade.
- Student essay
- Resume
- Extracurricular activities
- Community services
- Writing portfolio
- Student interview
- Parent interview
- Teacher's recommendations
